If I understand correctly, you are requesting an additional 90 days at current contract pricing, with an increase as outlined to go into effect at the conclusion of 90 days. If that is correct, we would be amenable to this.

I attached a quick analysis of the price increases as well. You mentioned prices had gone up over 60% on insignia leading me to believe we had made a mistake in our quote. Average increase across the board is 9.67%, with the larger increases coming from our VHB KK (Heavy Gold Electroplate) And Rhodium plated badges. Insignia went up roughly 6%. On this spreadsheet, the insignia is listed as pairs, and you may have seen pricing at a single unit in the past which might have caused confusion in this case.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask.

Regards,

David Elliott

Good Afternoon Mr. Elliot,

Thank you for getting back with me, I greatly appreciate it. We normally require 90 days notification so that we can make adjustments, and we would consider this to be fair. If this is agreeable, we would then submit the new prices to be entered into the contract.

I hope that you have safe travels and look forward to our speaking again.

Asst. Chief Randolph,

I apologize for the delayed reply, I am on the road on business and while here at the airport had my first opportunity to respond. I appreciate the candid feedback. We have very much appreciated the relationship we've had with Jacksonville as well.

I do want to assure you the request for these increases is not opportunistic. Blackinton has held pricing throughout the entirety of the current contract, which in retrospect has been a mistake. While we had good intentions surrounding the maintenance of a positive relationship with your organization, we could not have predicted the recent and massive increase in costs to produce your badges. More incremental increases throughout the last several years would have had validity and most certainly would have lessened the impact of these most recent changes. I was hopeful the data we provided covering these increases over the last three years would shed light on the challenges we've faced. The proposed increases are not arbitrary.

I do apologize for the late notice as well. We are responding to these contract renewals in real time. Due to some turnover in the account management position, the Jacksonville contract was not identified early on for review. The increase should have been communicated with far more advanced notice. We are striving to do better in communicating these significant changes with fair notice.

In the interest of working together for a fair outcome, you asked us to reconsider the timing and the amount of these increases. What did you have in mind as far as timing? I understand the expiration is imminent and I had thought this our only opportunity to make an adjustment. While an increase is necessary, we are willing to work with you to achieve a fair outcome for a one year renewal.

Regards,

David Elliott

Good Morning Mr. Elliot and Mrs. Tetreault,

I hope this email finds you well.

I was just informed that Blackinton has hit us with a price increase averaging over 18% on our badges and over 60% on our insignia. While I am aware of the supply chain problems we have in our country, this seems to be excessive and more opportunistic by Blackinton.

Coupled with the timing of giving us only 5 working days' notice before the contract expires, these actions are certainly not relationship-enhancing. Blackinton's actions also negatively impact our budget, for which I am responsible. The timing prevents us from changing either this year's budget or the next fiscal year to compensate for the extra expenditures.

Over the years, we have tried to develop a good working relationship with Blackinton. You have been our go to supplier for all of our recent specialty badge programs as well as other badge and insignia enhancements. We have not objected to your offered prices and have strived to provide you with the process support to make these programs attractive for Blackinton.

We are asking that you reconsider both the timing and the amount of these increases to bring them more in line with maintaining a long term relationship. We would like your response quickly as we have a lot of work to complete in a very short time span in order to comply with the City Procurement rules and policies.

Thank you,

JLR
