

Bio – Rhodes Robinson

Mr. Robinson is the founder and CEO of Environmental Services, Inc., an ecological consulting firm with headquarters in Jacksonville and offices throughout the eastern United States. The firm provides service to public and private entities in natural resource disciplines (wetlands, protected species, forestry, water resources, etc.), cultural resources, and contamination assessment.

Mr. Robinson has over 30 years of experience in the environmental consulting field and holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in wildlife biology from North Carolina State University. He is a Certified Environmental Professional and Professional Wetland Scientist. Mr. Robinson has served as Director and Ways and Means Committee Chair for the Society for Wetland Scientists and is Past President for the Society for Wetland Scientists Professional Certification Program. He has also served on the Certification Team for the Academy of Board Certified Environmental Professionals.

Mr. Robinson has developed and presented seminars to various groups, including developers, lenders, attorneys, and regulatory agency personnel. He has also presented papers at numerous conferences:

- INTECOL V International Wetlands Conference, Perth, Western Australia
- U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Conference on Wetlands, New Orleans, LA
- Society of Wetland Scientists Conference, Kansas City, KS
- National Association of Environmental Professionals, Houston, TX
- Co-Chair, Southeast Water and Wetlands Law Annual Conference, Atlanta, GA
- Florida and Georgia Bar Associations

Mr. Robinson's current primary areas of interest are mitigation banks, large-scale environmental planning, and complex environmental issues.