

PROCLAMATION

ONE CITY. ONE JACKSONVILLE.

WHEREAS: “The World’s Greatest Rock and Roll Band” was formed in 1962 by childhood friends Keith Richards and Mick Jagger in London, England; and

WHEREAS: By 1964, The Rolling Stones had released their first album, had their first number one hit with “It’s All Over Now”, and began their second US tour; and

WHEREAS: The band has spent nearly half a century performing in front of millions of fans all over the globe, including countless sold out venues, late night television appearances, and a Super Bowl Halftime Show; and

WHEREAS: The British rock and roll group has become one of the most beloved musical acts of all time; and

WHEREAS: Their achievements include winning three Grammy awards, having 57 songs top the Billboard Hot 100 chart, and selling an estimated 250 million albums worldwide; and

WHEREAS: After almost 30 years, The Rolling Stones return to Jacksonville, Florida for their No Filter Tour on July 19, 2019.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LENNY CURRY, by virtue of the authority vested in me as mayor of Jacksonville, Florida, do hereby proclaim Friday, July 19, 2019 as to honor and welcome back one of the most influential and inspiring rock bands in history to our great city.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, this 8th day of July in the year Two Thousand 19

MAYOR

CITY OF JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA
